

This special book of Wonder

We all encounter a time or period in life that our secure feelings fail that our ideals are in confrontation with reality without any legitimate

As we all encounter in life a period, that our job is not with its avail, and that our personal sphere is not meeting a level of contentment.

As we all encounter an age or moment that diseases, that poverty, or that old age gives its suffer, as not prevented, as not anticipated.

The book of wonder is about this internal source, what purpose it has and which words are needed to find the fountain of being happy.

All world religions as their purpose and their active endorsement are with this mark of authority as their source is about life as personal, as in society and this level of heaven as the afterlife or reward.

As all world religions with their authority all have a source being transcending life and transcending purpose of life. As when purpose is beyond the personal interest its in connection with this divine layer, as religion on earth and in heaven.

As christian doctrine hold its value by this precious means of expression by prayer and this use of philanthropy and work without salary or volunteer work.

As the hindu doctrine, as their language described by sanskrit hold their message about the universe, about time, and all wisdom by its source of prayer, mantra or the level their writings offer by its meaning.

As the doctrine of earth holds its value of gemstones, of medieval sayings, and the use of life without gods to be a part of higher order, as mother earth, being its essence of giving a position to its active being.

As all world religions hold their authority, as christian by prayer, as hindu by the spoken use of mantras and the other religions in line with godhead, angels, and the level to supercede all meaning during life. as we seek a connection.

The active endorsement is based on our own free will, but yet to allow the higher part of life to connect. as we all say, we search for, and are fulfilled.

As this radiance of godly interference is for religion the basis of their books and uses. As the share of societal marks by their personal active part of life and living.

As on earth this message of its religions and its use for all people and its service to the population. as with its condition of both message as their books and writings being in the past and its special value re- invented by all its persons finding its gemstone.

As the christian doctrine tells about prayer, expression of feelings, wishes, life, and all subjects able to be communicated. As Christ taught about prayer but yet this time, and the future will tell this method of prayer to be most valuable and even of higher origin than we can discern. As all our words to the gods, or the archangels are by their possible radiance in their coordination and their radiance of being above life, and in line with having it heard in the responsibility of those high ones.

Where prayer and its means are in society it touches both life, and touches the gods in their radiance as they reveal to all those in service in the range of their heart, and the range of their personal life. Prayer as taught is the communication and connection with the divine. as Christ sacrificed himself to be the intermediary of both Lord the father with his omnipotent, omnipresent and omniscience. as human between the gods and the all the people seeking his support and mercy, as they say by prayer our life has been blessed and when he gave his grace and mercy he gave us the possibly life of high value.

As Christ sacrificed he is both in union with Lord the Father, and all his servants, and faithful people as they can express at their level of being, and he is without any prejudice. When we would reach our for this high source, even Lord the Father he tells and teaches us in the inner of our soul and heart. and we are blessed by his daily light.

This christian doctrine, when we would reach heaven would be proofed in its value as all other christians in the past, as in their life, and our lives. We all as we say are by religion and all world religions being blessed as their visible image of the gods.

Guardian angel
You may guide me
I ask your mercy

From the darkness to the light his power was with might
a small token of friendship was his way and made for everyone a golden day
as we all look in the sun and say Brahman your will be done

a thousand rays of the sun compared to the Almighty one as the prayer of surrender
as the message of a high sender
as he cuts all problems asunder and fills our days with wonder

the mighty roar of gods
blessed by queens and lords gives us happiness the most at the shores of wisdom coast

as the mighty roar
the demons felt to their core
as they paid the final fee still the exit to see

as a lofty sea
made them all to see mercy as the line of light gave them all a lofty sight

The hindu tradition holds its spoken message of the veda's and as well all the cultural writings of purana and messengers of its teachment as ramayan, as bagva gita and all the uses of its understanding sources and understanding the part of realization.

As the hindu tradition about the sacred language describing all wisdom and the insights even about the order in the universe and through all times, as their experience with gods, powers, goddesses and principal information.

When a connection with a divine power is established the devotee learns how this power is intertwined with life, and on all life theme's teaches, but also provides, and within life as a relationship or mutual divine bond.

A mantra can open a relationship or bond, a kind of prayer with a holy name can open a personal source of divine light, and to be in service can open life to higher meaning.

when karma is about serving a godhead, when bhakti is about friendship or experiencing superceding causes, and when contemplation is about union with heart, soul and the eternal reality.

When hinduism touches life, and in the sphere of its writings and spoken messages, we see its authority disclosing a religion with possible thousands years of experience, and possible millions of years, and the broad view on the universe. as even thousands of universen in their godhead and its vision.

As hinduism about earning life, earning the bond with divine, is to active search for it and to sacrifice all self interest to find the source of its abundance and wisdom. May life evolve to a higher meaning, transcending to life of divine radiance.

All the messages of world religions are with their interest to enhance life, to have a level of meaning in society and to add to its value of order, of hierarchy, and about design.

As a godhead or radiance enhances life, and designs a life by mercy, service, or surrender it gives both satisfaction of personal level, as health, wealth and wisdom.

Health in its level of feeling healthy, have a body of feeling good and active, full of energy and the blessing to have a good rest at night, and a feeling of harmony during the day. As wealth being in connection to feeling content with life. even if poverty, or prosperity is a daily experience the wealth of a religious life is above the level visible life theme's

Where wisdom meets the servant or devotee its explaining why life is having a way-pointer towards its end and the path disclosing all parts of life, and why things happen. as all life questions with an answer adds to peace and a peaceful life.

World religions describing the gemstone of surrendering, be it a prayer be it a personality part, be it surrendering to all you cannot do by any other means. as its word surrender is more than just one day, one action, and even a devoted life can have surrender with a level beyond the societal value, beyond a personal point of view. as when surrendering, or surrender by prayer starts, it will be inconceivable.

When surrender meets the personal life, by prayer, action, the radiance of the gods fill this person this life at the level of its surrender with their inconceivable light.

We in world religions seeks this valuable lessons on surrender in their origins and in their deep level of understanding as its gemstone is worth a thousand years

The message of surrender, as all religions point to it in their language of their books and writings. as surrender opens the life of high level, and its high level to society and its societal interest.

Surrender is valuable for thousands of years in society, and valuable for whole of mankind, and humanity as even an insight for as we point to the universe in hindu tradition, as its the act of union with the gods, goddesses and religious powers.

Where the prayer of surrender opens higher life, radiance even within the sphere of our heart and soul, we open for a divine life, unfolding its path through the time and period of our life.

When our surrender is daily and in our full life, or by a prayer or decision, we are in the daily experience of he gods who exist, and who influences life in its inner soul.

As we in life seek this gemstone, this prayer or this surrender in our existence, we are open to all changes and all things that can be. as we in our life are depending on our knowledge, our personality, depending on our loved ones.

As all religions are in accordance with order. as they created the ground of humanity as we abide to law, to rightfull ordeals, and abide to order as the gods in their easy level know about reality in its fullest of measures.

When we surrender, we have the border of law, and righteousness and yet be a personal servant of the radiance of the holy name we choose.

When surrender meets society we will be special, we will be outstanding we exist.

The message of surrender when we actively confirm it by prayer or in life to be at a level of service and the godhead offers his radiance as part of personal life.

We will change our wishes, to the good ones, we will change our personality being more peacefully, we will change possibly our job or our community labor.

As we change by the light of the godhead, we have a natural change towards a life with its mark of the holy source we choose.

The message of surrender is without any level of karma, without condition as the world religions serve by their coordination within the scope of life and society. they offer their wisdom on our doorstep. even when we want to choose, they serve by the power of culture, tradition and the power of order within society and religion.

When christians surrender to the Lord,
When hindu's surrender to Krishna or Vishnu,
When we meet angels at the border of spiritual evolvment.

When the message and gemstone of surrender is in our heart, as a wish, as a possible decision, and a possible period of life.
We will by its high value add to all those before us with the same prayer and intent.

They possible have been high kinds in sciences, high kinds in social life, they possible have been kinds of new changes in society.

We have all those surrendered, by their good names being in their experiences before us, meeting and connecting to the divine. as they in their daily experience.

When religion is in our hearts we sometime have a wish to serve society spreading a message on peace, science, harmony or anty of the sciences and scientific breahthrough , as other times we search for a personal connection.

When religion in our hearts serve our personal evolvment we sometimes do not wish to be in the midst of society and the centre of its labor or cultural life. as sometimes religion persuades us to be in a distant place only serving our inner relationship with the divine.

when our relationship is most important we think of being connected to a communi-on or monestary as to serve secluded from society our only avail of transcending the soul, or deepening our relationship by prayer, or to allow a personal bond to grow in the midst of our existence.

When we want to serve society we work and have labor, and our surrender is the sole cause of a high life and level in society.

When we want to be deepening only our bond, and the inconceivable experience in our heart, we choose to either combine a life in society with periods of contemplation or personal activity or the choice for a communion as we then can dedicate our full life to its avail. as a monestary or any of its uses in a religion to serve our soul.

As after life a person is guided by the afterlife and gods promise heaven or a reward. as we say my life was fruitfull to society, or my life was to grow radiance in my soul.

As all religions hold their authority and their level of truth in their messages we can say, society was of avail, or my soul was deepening by radiance. even to have my personality changed.

When the message of religion is in its writing as with its purpose of understanding. We can tell about how earth has been created, how the sun gives light and its energy to all living beings on earth.

We can tell about all past societies and civilisations, and all hierarchies that hold its function of sustaining earth and its reality.

We can tell about order being with humanity and mankind being with reason. As the Lord created man to his image and resemblance, and the soul as the spark of the Lord, as consciousness and awareness are without sciences as the creation for every being.

We can tell about the reason to exist, sometimes to pay a karmadebt, sometimes the chance to evolve, sometimes to understand life.

We can tell about life and after the short period, to have a reward of heaven, a reward of evolved soul, a reward of karma a next gifted life.

All religions hold their messages about order beyond our visible appearance. As their messages to seek and search for why and how the Creator gave measure for all that existings. from the largest tot the smallest.

When we explore reason and the wisdom of the Creator, we will find answer, we will find meaning. as prayer as intent, are with the special interest.

When all the civilisations would speak they say we with our period have been with the blessings, and all other societies with their interest as well. As their messages would give the blessing of understanding our origins.

All religions in their message hold their teachings to all level of understanding. As some say only the visible is my purpose. others say the philosophy is my understanding. as well some say only social is my skill.

As religions hold their teacinh to all level of intelligence they all can benefit from those special prayer and intents.

When scientists explore their field of sciences by prayer and its implementation, as writers by prayer write about poetry, culture or visioning good or strange life. As artists by prayer design and give visions to not yet seen art, as giving wonder and marvel to all those searcing beauty in art.

The prayer of surrender and the intent to serve the holy names give at all levels their sustenance of life, the sustenance of being part of higher order. The sustenance of being worthy to society.

This gemstone being worth a life of wonder, a life full of gemstones.

May everyone be endowed with life and intelligence, and with their personal purpose.

May a small book add to wonder, to the radiance of a godhead.
